THE FIRST DAY.

THE MEET OF THE KENTUCKY DIVISION A SUCCESS.

A Large Crowd at the Fairgrounds to See the Races—The Program For Today's Races.

Yesterday was certainly Wheel Day in Maysville.

Every other man you met wore the colors on the lapel of his coat, while the ladies were also decked out in pink and blue.

There were about 150 wheelmen from all parts of the state in this city to attend the annual meeting of the Kentucky Division, L. A. W.

The business of the first day was all gone through with before dinner, and in the afternoon the most important part of the program was carried out—the races at the Fairgrounds.

A large crowd went to see the sport, and all present were amply repaid, as the races were exciting.

The first race—one mile novice—Two prizes, the first a fine chair, $15, given by the Red Skin Tobacco Works, being won by S. R. Leathers of Louisville, and the second prize by J. H. Carson of Georgetown, which was a pair of shoes, $5, given by H. C. Barkley. Time—2:45.

The second race was of one-half mile heats. There were three prizes. First, one pair racing tires, $25, given by Morgan & Wright, Chicago, won by E. D. Fichtner; the second prize, a Garford saddle, $6, was won by E. L. Pearce of Danville; third prize, a pocket-knife, $3, given by the Frank Owens Hardware Co., was a tie between J. H. Carson of Georgetown and W. I. Huffsteler of Orlando, Fla., they to settle between themselves. Time—1:31, 1:13, 1:19.

The third race was declared off on account of the absence of two of the contestants, but Mr. Harry Ellard of Cincinnati did some fancy riding on a high wheel in suit No. 12.

The fourth race was the one mile Kentucky Division championship, for which there were two prizes offered. The first, a gold medal $50, given by the Owensboro Wheel Club, was won by A. J. Nolin of Louisville, and the second, one-half dozen fine shirts, $15, given by Rosenau Bros., was won by J. P. Mitchell of Louisville. Time—2:38 2/5.

The fifth race was for the championship of Maysville, and Buckner Wall won the first prize, which was a fine chair, $10, given by Melvin & Humphreys, and Millard Williams won the second, one box fine cologne, $5, given by J. C. Pecor. Time—3:02 3/5.

The sixth race was quarter-mile heats for Kentucky riders only. Two prizes—a suit of clothes $25, given by Hechinger & Co.—was won by Owen S. Kinble of Louisville, and the second prize—sweater, $7, given by Harry Barkley—was won by E. D. Fichtner. Time—3:12 1/2; 32, 33 2/5.

The seventh race—one mile handicap—had three prizes. The first prize was a gold medal, given by the Kentucky Wheel Club, was won by Duke Crolley; the second prize consisted of subscriptions to several wheel papers, and was won by the Orlando man, and the third prize—subscription to The American Wheelman—was won by J. C. Mitchell. Time—2:28.

The officers in charge of the meeting here deserve great credit for the delightful races.

THE LEDGER'S BASEBALL FAN!

Points in the Game Played Yesterday Afternoon at Maysville's Handsome New Park.

Ill luck, dark, deep, hollow-eyed ill-luck, threw our boys down in the game against the Navies at East End Park yesterday morning and held them there until they were counted out.

No less than five times in the first five innings did the Locals get a man to third base and then leave him there when a little hit would have sent him over the slab.

Wild throws marred what would have otherwise been a pretty game.

Reiman pitched a fine game, but was robbed of a victory by very sloppy support at several different stages in the game. He gave one man a base on balls in the second. It was a fatal gift, as the runner scored on Tenley's bad throw to catch him off of third.

Young Eagle twirled again for the visitors, and while he was touched up pretty lively he managed to keep the hits well scattered.

The visitors started the fun in the second and scored two runs. Heileman fired off a skyrocket over second. McGann should have taken it, but he sent Wadsworth in after it. Henry started late and arrived in time to catch on the first bound. Reiman pushed Heileman to second by letting Carr walk. Heileman bunted, Reiman threw wild to catch him at first and Heileman scored, Carr going to third and Heileman to second. Tenley caught Carr napping at third but made a bad throw to Curle and Carr tied. The next three men up went out in order.

It looked bright for several runs for the home team in their half, but they didn't materialize. McGann hit a beauty to left for three bases. Reiman jolted a slow grounder down to third. McGann made a dive for the plate, but Heileman made a quick throw and nailed him. Engle thought he had Reiman napping at first but made a wild throw to catch him and George went to third. Wadsworth banged one right at Reiman. George tried to avoid it, but was struck by the ball and declared out.

Crane started the fourth with a single and stole second, but he went over the bag in sliding and before he could get back was touched out, thereby killing a beautiful chance to score, as McGann followed with a nice single which would have put him over the slab.

Maysville's two scores were made in the eighth. Curle singled to left and stole second. Crane sacrificed him to third. McGann worked a base on balls and walked down to second. Reiman died at first. Wadsworth then saved us from disgrace by rapping a single over short, on which Curle and McGann scored. Wadsworth was left, as Sutherland went out on a pop-up fly to the pitcher.

FOREMAN CHARLES ROLFE.

Superintendent of One of the Biggest Composing Rooms in America.

Up in the top story of The Globe building, where the typesetting and other machines do everything but talk, says The Boston Globe, there is a pleasant-faced, clear skinned, light complexioned man of 52, who has been with The Globe ever since the birthday of that great paper. He is night foreman of the composing room, and looks fully 15 years younger than he really is. His name is Mr. Charles Rolfe.

Nervous headaches that well-nigh drove him to distraction first introduced him to Paine's celery compound. That was five years ago, and until that time he was one of the most pronounced opponents of prepared remedies to be found in the city.

Just how Paine's celery compound was first brought to his attention he does not remember, but it has done him so much good that the compound has no more enthusiastic champion living. He is as happy as any one in the enjoyment of good health could be, and for that happiness he gives full credit to Paine's celery compound. Read what he has to say about the medicine:

"I am always ready to recommend Paine's celery compound when I hear of a case similar to my own. Some five years ago I was suffering from headaches which were sometimes so severe during working hours of the night that I would clasp my hands over my head to 'hold the top on,' the pain being excruciating. These attacks would occur sometimes as often as three times a week. Sleep was out of the question, the pillow seeming but a block of wood.

"Just at the time I was suffering most I bought a bottle of Paine's celery compound, began at once to take it, and before a week had passed the headaches began to disappear. I felt almost a new man before the bottle was empty. I purchased more, and for two years kept it in the house for use whenever I felt a return of the old pains. It never failed in giving me relief. The other members of my family also began to take it—my wife for a feeling of general weakness, she being at that time much 'run down' and never feeling well enough to perform the work of the home. Within a week she was, as she expressed it, 'as well as ever in her life,' and similar reports came from all our friends to whom we had recommended it.

"I feel confident that in nervous headaches and a 'run down' system the compound will be beneficial every time, if not a perfect cure.

"In some instances we have not only recommended it, but furnished it to very aged friends, and the effect of one bottle has seemed marvelous, one particular old friend of mine telling me that before one bottle had been used he 'felt at least ten years younger, and certainly had not felt as good for 10 years.'

"During the last five years I have used a great many bottles of the compound—that is, in my home. I am positive that it is a sure cure for nervous headaches and a broken down feeling, especially in the case of elderly persons.

"There is one case in particular I call to mind, in which Paine's celery compound asserted its good qualities. We had a young married lady friend, who was nursing her 4-months-old child, and found that she could not perform her household duties on account of the weak condition she seemed always to be in. On the recommendation of my wife and myself she took one bottle of the compound, and before two weeks had passed was able to do her own washing even, in addition to housework. About three bottles were used. I have yet to hear from any friend to whom I recommended it other than the most favorable results."
